Perched on a gentle slope with breathtaking views of one of Antigua's most treasured landmarks, Flower Moon offers a rare chance to own a piece of land overlooking the world-renowned Nelson's Dockyard in English Harbour. This hillside plot sits on the south coast of the island, in an area where land with such unique perspective and potential almost never becomes available.

From this elevated position, Flower Moon captures panoramic views directly across Nelson's Dockyard—the only surviving Georgian naval dockyard in the world. Surrounded by lush greenery and cooled by the Caribbean breeze, the land offers an ideal setting for a private residence or a boutique development that blends heritage, charm, and tranquility.
